Rendzina LTD

Rendzina LTD is a fast growing Enterprise Development company, one which combines classic Management Consulting with outstanding Technology Solutions expertise. The approach of thinking in terms of these two capacities simultaneously goes a long way to determine the future performance of every enterprise, project or venture.

Our business is Enterprise Development; our strengths are digital technologies, management innovation and professional networks.

For more than 9 years, we have been supporting companies of different sizes and sectors around the country, helping them to improve the sustainability of their ventures and performance abilities along the entire value chain with the aid of innovative technologies.

It is our thinking that every globally competitive enterprise or government with a passion for development operates on the revolutionary power of “thought leadership” principally generated through the independent services of consultants such as Rendzina.

We strive to use the combining forces of native and emotional intelligence, intuition, back-end study analysis and inspired knowledge to generate ideas and solutions that set the pace, create pathways, influence changes, build enterprises and sustain growth and development for all our clients.
